

The Pyramid Model

for Early Childhood Professionals

Do the families you support need practical strategies to strengthen their child's social and emotional development?

Supporting parents and caregivers to create safe, nurturing environments helps build early childhood spaces where every child and family feels valued, respected and that they belong.

About the Pyramid Model

The Pyramid Model for Promoting Social Emotional Competence in Infants and Young Children is a framework of practices to promote the social, emotional, and behavioural development of each and every child.

The Pyramid Model is grounded in a focus on equity, inclusion and belonging and is based on the assumption that all children can be successful.

Learning Outcomes

- Develop a detailed understanding of the Pyramid Model
- Explore practical tools and strategies you can apply in your own early learning environment
- Learn how to approach implementation in your setting
